

Q3 Innovation, intrapreneurship, and creativity are generally seen as vital to sustained success How well are they understood in your organisation?

Answered: 128 Skipped: 2

Answer Choices	Responses
Not at all, just buzz words	12.50% 16
Mentioned in strategy plans and values, but little in the way of action or just sporadically done	36.72% 47
Formal programs at leadership levels to understand how to make innovation happen, but still early days in implementation	16.41% 21
Leadership actively encourages creativity and intrapreneurship to promote innovation	19.53% 25
Innovation, creativity & intrapreneurship are thriving and actioned throughout the organisation	7.81% 10
Other (please specify)	7.03% 9
Total	128

#	Other (please specify)	Date
1	Limited in reactive environment	9/6/2015 9:39 PM
2	in plans and strategy but action just starting - no formal programs	9/2/2015 8:04 PM
3	Not relevant	9/1/2015 1:01 PM
4	A state of mind	8/31/2015 11:33 PM
5	depends on individual personalities	8/31/2015 8:33 PM
6	Implementation seems effectively contra to intention which is seen by inclusion of buzzwords in strategies and plans it few below senior management and executive comprehend	8/31/2015 8:28 PM
7	It's a completely integrated element of our business purpose	8/31/2015 7:49 PM
8	As a new, growing business these concepts define us	8/31/2015 5:47 PM
9	These terms do not feature at all in my organisation, even as buzz words.	8/31/2015 4:36 PM